*God said to an unborn child it is time to go into the world the child said I'm afraid God said I will send an angel with you the child said how can I be on my own God said the angel will teach you the child said there are bad things out there God said the angel will protect you the child said God I will miss you God said the angel will tell you all about me
The child said what do I call the angel God said simply "Mother"*
